

CULTURE, RELATIONSHIPS, AND HEALTH RESEARCH SEMINAR

Chicano/Latino Studies 289

Spring 2019

Tuesdays 3:00–6:50PM

Social Science Tower 318

PROFESSOR

Dr. Belinda Campos

Office: 395 Social Science Tower

Office Hours: Tuesdays 4-5pm and by appointment.

Phone: 949.824.1792

Email: bcampos@uci.edu

SEMINAR OBJECTIVES AND OVERVIEW OF REQUIREMENTS

This course highlights current theory, conceptual issues, methods, analyses, and the process of research reporting in psychology (i.e., publication) as it pertains to the study of culture, relationships, and health. This quarter, we will focus on writing up research for scientific publication. We'll write, write, write and present our research/provide each other with feedback as needed. At the end of the quarter, we'll assess the state of our writing goals and consider future directions that can assist us on the road to being the writers we want to become.

COURSE REQUIREMENTS

Writing: To facilitate progress on your research that is relevant to the study of culture, relationships, and health, each student should plan on making progress on a writing project throughout the quarter that can be shared periodically for group feedback and discussion.

Grading: Grading will be based on your writing goal progress and class participation.

COURSE SCHEDULE

Week 1: April 2nd

Organizational Meeting

Weeks 2-9: April 9th– May 28th

Bring your laptop and plan to write!

* Plus, checking in on the state of our writing goals; getting feedback as needed.

Week 10: June 4th

Bring your laptop and plan to write!

*Plus, assessing the state of research on diversity in close relationship and health processes with an eye toward outlining possible future research directions for ourselves and assessing the state of our writing goals with an eye toward the road necessary to being the writers we want to become.