COURSE DESCRIPTION AND OVERVIEW OF REQUIREMENTS
This course introduces the student to contemporary issues relevant to the medical care of U.S. Latinos/as from the perspective of interdisciplinary social and behavioral science. Like the 2nd year class, the course begins with a refresher examination of biomedicine as a cultural system and a critical examination of “cultural competence” to analytically situate the rest of the course material. Issues covered throughout the course include the role of power in health care access, immigration, social relationships and health, gender, reproduction, culture, social structure, and political economy. Discussion will be focused on analyzing how the experience of health and illness is shaped by these factors and, consequently, how Latino/as are interpreted and constructed through the lens of medicine. To orient the discussion toward possibilities for future social change that would benefit underserved populations, readings on social influence and examples of social change in the U.S. are also included.

The weekly seminar meeting will primarily consist of discussion. Discussions will be student lead and all members of the class are expected to participate. To help structure our thinking for discussion and ensure that discussion is relevant to all interests: (1) each student will be required to generate 1 question/comment from each weekly reading and (2) each student will lead/moderate class discussions on 1 article of the assigned readings. Student discussion leaders will use the questions generated by their reading as the starting point for class discussion.

Maintaining an informative and intellectually engaging seminar is the joint responsibility of the instructor and students. I do my best to organize and prepare an engaging and productive learning experience. Your part of this joint responsibility is to read all assigned material before coming to class and lead/contribute to a thoughtful discussion of class material.
REQUIRED READINGS

Articles: PDF copies of articles and book chapters that are required readings for this course will be made available to all enrolled students via the course website. You are responsible for downloading the readings and completing them on time.

COURSE WEBPAGE

The link to the course website for is: https://eee.uci.edu/17f/97648. The website is only available to enrolled students and the password is “plcms3.”

This syllabus and class readings are available on the class website. Revisions, announcements, handouts, additional readings, and other materials will also be posted on the website. You are responsible for checking the website periodically for updated information.

GRADING

Grading will be based on class attendance, weekly questions, discussion participation, and midterm and final paper assignments.

NOTE: If you already know you will miss class, you still need to plan to complete assignments or video into class (e.g., Skype, FaceTime). Missing 2 or more classes without completing assignments/video’ing in will result in a final grade of not pass.

Class Attendance (10%): Attendance is required. The format is a graduate seminar that requires active participation and discussion. Class attendance is an important part of your learning, and therefore, your grade. Throughout the course, you should be developing your ability to compare and contrast different perspectives; to recognize when patterns of evidence support or challenge assumptions and hypotheses; to consider how research findings might be applied; to identify methodological problems in research studies and generate ideas for future research; to think critically about how to address existing limitations in health care for underserved populations in terms of research, practice, and public advocacy. Attending class and actively participating in discussion will help you develop these abilities. There will be no way to make up for the loss of points incurred by missing class meetings.

Weekly Questions (10%): Generating one question/comment per each assigned reading is required. This assignment will help you to think critically as you complete the assigned readings and serve as your prepared contribution to subsequent class discussion. To obtain credit for completing this class requirement, you need to email your questions to the instructor before class – Thursday by 12pm at the latest. There will be no way to make up for the loss of points incurred by missing or late weekly questions. Late questions can be used for class discussion but will receive zero points.
Discussion Participation (20%): All students will be assigned to lead the discussions on 1 of the weekly readings. Discussion lead assignments are chosen randomly, although effort is made to distribute longer and shorter readings evenly. Discussion is central to the class. Everyone must come prepared to discuss readings and incorporate what they are learning into their medical training and patient-based experiences. It is also imperative that everyone show courtesy toward fellow classmates at all times. Do not interrupt others and seek to handle disagreements in a civil manner. On a more general note, all students are expected to conduct themselves during the class in a manner that does not interfere with the educational experience of other students in the course. That means arriving for class on time and turning off cellular phones, pagers, and other electronic devices that might disrupt class discussion. Your cooperation is greatly appreciated.

Midterm paper: (30%): Students will interview an adult patient or practitioner met through clinical experience (age 21 or over) and write a clinical narrative (personal narrative or brief life history) based on that interview. In the paper, you must connect the narrative material obtained through the interview directly to course readings/course themes. Papers must include the following sections: Introduction; Narrative Material; Analysis; Conclusion. This paper will be 10-15 pages of double spaced text with 12-point font and 1 inch margins. DUE: TBD

Final paper (30%): The final assignment is an op-ed piece or commentary for a national or international venue (e.g., journal, newspaper, scholarly magazine, etc.). Papers should convey the significance of your topic and analytical insight to educated lay audiences. The paper should draw upon themes covered in class and be consistent with national guidelines for op-ed/commentaries (guidelines will be provided). Students are encouraged to read op-ed and commentaries on health themes to prepare for this assignment. DUE: TBD.

NOTES ON PAPERS: Papers must be turned in to Professor Campos’ email inbox by the stated due date. Late papers are not accepted and will receive zero points.

I will make time in class to discuss paper ideas and provide samples of previous excellent papers. I also encourage you to come to office hours or make an appointment to discuss your ideas and developing paper. However, I do NOT look at drafts because it is not fair to the whole class if I evaluate the drafts of some papers but not others. Also, this is not a writing course and I do not provide basic writing instruction. If you are concerned about your writing, please contact UCI Center for Excellence in Writing and Communication to take advantage of their writing workshops and other forms of assistance. Their website is http://www.writingcenter.uci.edu/.

CLASS POLICIES

People generally think of me as warm and approachable. Generally, this is true but I also need to maximize the learning experience, keep the class on track, and run a fair and democratic classroom. Therefore, some class policies are set upfront:

Enrollment, Add/Drop & Incompletes: Students are responsible for their own enrollment. This includes checking your status, filing appropriate paperwork, and paying appropriate fees.

If you wish to drop the course, it is your responsibility to go through the proper procedures to ensure that you are dropped from the course. Be aware that there are deadlines for dropping without penalty. If you drop the course after the deadline, you will need the Dean’s signature and you will receive a “W” on your transcript. Incompletes are not given in this course except under extremely rare circumstances that require documentation and adherence to University policies.

Grading Policy: Final grades will be computed per the terms outlined in the grading section of the syllabus. Per University policy, final grades are permanent grades (i.e. non-negotiable and only able to be changed to correct clerical errors). If you have reason to challenge a grade you receive on an individual assignment, you must state your case in writing and submit your argument by the next class following return of the graded assignment. Only reasonable and well-justified arguments will be considered and instructor decisions are final. Please note that regrades can result in a lower score if I determine that there was an error in your favor during the first round of grading (so be certain that your argument is just and will benefit you).

Late Assignments: No late assignments are accepted. Assignments turned in after the due date will receive a zero. This policy is set up so that no one falls behind. To enforce this rule fairly, there can be no exceptions (except for extenuating circumstances of a catastrophic nature and even then, you must be extremely persuasive). So, please turn in your assignments on time. I’ve made an effort to coordinate around your SOM commitments and clearly note due dates in the syllabus. Take note and plan accordingly.

Contacting the Professor: Please feel free to drop in at office hours or make an appointment. Email is the most effective way to contact me. To ensure that your email message is read promptly and is not filtered, please put the course name and/or number in the subject line of your message. You can generally expect to receive responses to your email inquiries within 24 hours during the week, and 48 hours on the weekend.

Being Contacted by the Professor: You must have an active UCI email account to participate in this course. I use email to make announcements about the course as well as to correspond with you individually. I will reply to emails from non-UCI accounts, but course announcements made over email will be sent to your UCI email address, so please check this account regularly.

Class Etiquette: Please be courteous to others and arrive to class on time. Late arrivals, early departures, cell phones, beepers, and “quiet conversations” are distracting and noticeable throughout the classroom. Students must turn off cellular phones and pagers during class as well as any other electronic device that may ring or otherwise disrupt class
Course Evaluations: Course evaluations are an important factor in evaluating instructor effectiveness and making decisions about future course offerings and content. Please plan on taking the time to complete an evaluation for this course at the end of the quarter.

Accommodations for Students with Disabilities: I make every effort to accommodate the needs of students with disabilities. If you have a documented disability that requires assistance, you will need to go to the Disability Services Center (DSC) for coordination of your academic accommodations. The DSC phone number is 949.824.7494 /TDD 949.924.6272 or you can visit their website at www.disability.uci.edu. For a detailed description of DSC policies and procedures, go to: http://www.disability.uci.edu/policies_procedures/testing_accomodations.pdf. Please notify me as soon as possible if you plan to use these services so I can ensure that appropriate accommodations are made.

Extra Credit: There is no extra credit in this class.

Cheating: Any student who cheats on the final paper will be given an F in the course and will not be permitted to withdraw. See the UCI course catalogue for a definition of cheating and a summary of further disciplinary actions that may be taken.
