COURSE DESCRIPTION
This course is an introduction to the research, literature, and issues surrounding the topic of Chicano/Latino Families. Many aspects of the Chicano/Latino family are examined including cultural history and contemporary issues such as: the organization of family, traditions, lifestyle, values, beliefs, generational differences, gender issues, and ethnic identity. Additionally, the course examines the evolution of demographic patterns and current economic and political standings for Chicano/Latinos in the United States.

COURSE OBJECTIVES
1. Examine the diversity and heterogeneity of Chicano/Latino families in terms of cultural customs and practices, as well as, family structure and family dynamics.

2. Understand the psychological issues faced by Chicano/Latino families and when relevant, and how these issues ultimately influence the Chicano/Latino individual.

3. Investigate current research on Chicano/Latino families, including topics such as the effects of immigration and acculturation on family members, the shifting gender roles leading to changes in the family structure and function, issues faced by children and youth, and dysfunction within the family (alcohol/drug abuse, physical and sexual abuse).

4. Identify the strengths of Chicano/Latino families that can be utilized to develop practical, appropriate prevention and intervention programs related to the provision of social and mental health services.

COURSE FORMAT
The course will take a seminar format, primarily reciprocal and cooperative learning for synthesizing and analyzing. The environment will allow for interaction among the students and group activity will be initiated. It is crucial that students complete the assigned readings to enable their participation in class dialogue.

GROUND RULES OF DISCUSSION
- Remain respectful of others' views, opinions and statements
- Express your thoughts openly while respecting your colleagues
- Be courteous and polite
- Avoid any comments and language that can be offensive
- Allow peers to finish statements and complete thoughts
DROP POLICY
Anyone wishing to drop this course must do so within the first week of class. This class is in high demand, and I will not allow your indecision to preempt others from fulfilling a requirement. No Exceptions!

Grades will be assigned by percentage, i.e., 100-95% = A, 94-90% = A-, 89-87% = B+, 86-84% = B, 83-80 = B-, 79-77 = C+, 76-74 = C, 73-70 = C-, etc. Assignments are due at the beginning of class on the day noted. No late papers or make-up exams will be accepted without prior permission from the instructor.

Group assignments, in-class activities, and presentations cannot be made up. Homework assignments will be expected at the beginning of class.

If the assignment is late (due to emergency and approved by faculty for late submission), you lose points. Specifically, for each day late (including weekends), you will incur one of the following penalties:

1 Point deduction for 1-5 point assignments; 1.5 Point deduction for 6-9 Point assignments
2 Point deduction for 10-20 point assignments; 3 Point deduction for 25 Point assignment

CHEATING
You are responsible for understanding all aspects of University regulations regarding academic honesty. Acts of academic dishonesty, including but not limited to cheating (e.g., coping another person’s work or obtaining examination answers in a dishonest manner) and plagiarism (i.e., using another person’s words or ideas without acknowledgement) will result in a zero for the assignment or examination; additional sanctions may be imposed by the University administration.

COURSE PARTICIPATION (15 POINTS). Students will be expected to engage in dialogue regarding assigned readings and engage in course activities. The discussions are to create an environment where students feel open to express themselves, share their opinions, and provide insight. Students are expected to offer opinions and engage in lively discussions about class topics. Attendance will be taken periodically.

FAMILY HISTORY (25 POINTS). We all have ethnic or cultural history, though we may not be consciously aware of it. In a 4-6 page typed, double spaced paper, describe the ethnic/cultural history/heritage of your family. Students will interview parents, grandparents, and relatives to discover the ethnic background and the origins of your family-national, cultural, geographical, religious, etc. A handout will be provided in class with a more thorough description of this assignment.

ACADEMIC ASSESSMENTS (75 POINTS EACH). There will be three academic assessments to examine how well you understand the material (lectures and readings). The exams will include multiple choice, true/false, and essay/comprehensive type questions. The exams are to be written in complete sentences. Answers will be evaluated on comprehensive and specific knowledge of the topic, development and support of conceptualization, thoroughness of responses, organization, and presentation of materials. Each exam will be 90 minutes and will take up the first half of the lecture on the designated date. Lecture will resume at 5:30pm for each day there is an assessment. Attendance will be taken post the exam.

CHICANO/LATINO FAMILY CASE STUDY - A Day in the Life of a Latino Family (50 POINTS). Students will be expected to capture the Chicano/Latino family experience in a choice of formats: written, audio, video, photography, art, etc. With the requirement of a home visit, students will be able to obtain concrete facts from individual perceptions and gain knowledge of Chicano/Latino attitudes, behaviors, and experiences. More specifically, a 10-12 page paper will be due at the end of the assignment accompanied with photos, journals, and other illustrative documents. (An additional handout will be provided with further details.)

PRESENTATION. This is an opportunity for the student to present their data from “A day in the life of a Chicano/Latino family” to the class. The student should be familiar with his/her data and findings and should be able to relate the observations to the class material. Evaluation will be based on presentation skills, coverage of the material, preparation and organization, and dialogue.

APA WRITING STYLE. All written assignments must be typed, spelled-checked, proofread for grammar mistakes, and should conform to the style and reference notation format outlined by the 2009 Publication Manual of the American Psychological Association (APA), Sixth Edition.
